

This document is a translation of the original Estonian version. In case of discrepancies, the Estonian version shall prevail.*

Liviko Code of Conduct

Liviko is a company engaged in the production, import and wholesale of a wide range of beverages. Its home market is the Baltic States, and its key strategic focus is the export of its own brands.

Liviko's mission is to promote a culture of responsibility, quality awareness and appreciation among consumers and distributors. To achieve this, we strive to serve our customers better every day while operating as a responsible and sustainable company that cares about its stakeholders and communities.

Liviko is part of the NG Investeeringud Group.

For Liviko, it is crucial to follow the organization's core values and the principles of exemplary business conduct on a daily basis, both to protect the Liviko's business interests and reputation and to improve the overall business environment.

Liviko Core Values are honesty – we act openly and sincerely, and value decisions based on facts; caring – we are friendly, supportive, and open to solutions that create value for people and the environment; reliability – we keep our promises and comply with applicable rules and regulations; innovation – we are open to innovative and modern ideas and always strive to stay one step ahead; openness – we respect differences and diversity and encourage the open sharing of ideas and opinions; environmental awareness – we care about the environment around us and use resources responsibly and sustainably.

The increasing integration of the global economy, longer supply and value chains in business, and European single market regulations create the need for unified, value-based agreements. Liviko believes that responsible business conduct is a competitive advantage and the foundation of trust for customers, employees, partners, and shareholders alike.

This Code of Conduct forms part of Liviko's long-term business strategy and brings together the key principles that Liviko's leaders, employees, and partners are required to follow in their activities.

The principles of Code of Conduct are based on both Estonian legislation and are in accordance with internationally recognized standards and agreements that guide responsible and sustainable business activities.

In addition, Liviko conducts its business activities in accordance with internal procedures, rules, and guidelines, which ensure the consistent and effective implementation of the principles of the Code of Conduct.

Principles of Exemplary Business Conduct

Liviko expects honesty, ethical behavior, and compliance with the law from its managers, employees, and business partners in all situations.

The following principles apply to Liviko, its employees, and members of its governing bodies (hereinafter collectively referred to as “Employees”). All cooperation partners (hereinafter “Partner”) must also adhere to these principles to the extent that their legal due diligence obligations require. A significant violation of these principles may serve as a basis for terminating contractual relationships with Liviko.

Ethics and Compliance with the Law

Liviko considers ethical and lawful conduct to be the foundation of its business activities—compliance with laws and fair business practices is essential for building trustworthy relationships and achieving long-term success.

Employees and Partners conduct their activities in accordance with laws, other applicable legal acts, and the customs and practices relevant to the field in which they operate.

If there are any conflicts between these principles or other mutual agreements and applicable legal acts, the stricter requirements shall apply in practice.

Liviko, its Employees, and Partners act ethically, fairly, and professionally in all their activities.

Conflict of Interests

Liviko considers the avoidance of conflicts of interest to be important, as only by operating in a trustworthy and transparent manner is it possible to maintain long-term and fair business relationships.

Employees always act with integrity and avoid situations where their personal interests would directly or indirectly conflict with the interests of Liviko or where they cannot act in the interests of Liviko.

Partners act ethically and responsibly and conduct their business in a way that does not harm the legitimate interests of Liviko or the broader business environment. Partners must not create or exploit situations that give them undue advantages at the expense of Liviko. Partners are obliged to implement measures within their organization to help prevent and detect conflicts of interest, including with regard to their employees and subcontractors.

Employees and Partners must immediately inform the Liviko tip line or other agreed-upon channels of any situations where a conflict of interest has arisen or there is a risk that it may arise.

Prohibition of Corruption and Prevention of Money Laundering

Liviko regards anti-corruption and anti-money laundering activities as an integral part of its business operations. Zero tolerance for all prohibited business practices is a fundamental principle from which no exceptions are made.

Liviko, its Employees, and Partners implement zero tolerance toward all forms of corruption, including bribery, fraud, or any other prohibited business practices, and avoid them in all their activities. Under no circumstances may anyone use their position for personal benefit or grant unfair advantages to a third party.

In mutual relations, the purpose of giving, receiving, and reciprocating hospitality is solely goodwill and the development of friendly working relationships, not to influence anyone toward preferential behavior or actions. When giving, receiving, or hosting gifts, one must adhere to applicable legislation and the company's more specific internal regulations on this matter, and avoid any situation that could be interpreted as illegal or suspicious activity. Employees and Partners must immediately report any suspicious or inappropriate transactions through the Liviko tip line.

Liviko and its Partners unequivocally oppose all forms of money laundering and terrorist financing and apply every measure at their disposal to prevent financial transactions within their activities from being used for money laundering or other criminal purposes.

Confidentiality and Handling of Inside Information

Liviko considers the proper handling of confidentiality and inside information to be an integral part of its reliable business practices and its status as a listed company.

Inside information is defined, according to Regulation (EU) No 596/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council on market abuse (MAR), as unpublished precise information that directly or indirectly concerns NG Investeeringud OÜ or its shares and which, if disclosed, could likely have a significant effect on the share price.

Liviko trade secrets and other protected information regarding the Liviko's operations, technology, resources, financial status, contracts, clients, suppliers, partners, pricing policy, etc., are considered confidential.

Liviko protects its trade secrets, inside information, and client data, and follows the requirements set for NASDAQ OMX Tallinn-listed companies. Liviko establishes internal rules for handling price-sensitive inside information and requires compliance from all Employees and Partners who come into contact with such information.

Employees are obliged to keep and transmit confidential information securely, avoid misuse of inside information, and refrain from discussing sensitive information when interacting with competitors. Employees must ensure the protection of personal data in accordance with applicable laws and internal regulations.

Partners must keep all Liviko trade secrets and inside information obtained during cooperation confidential. Partners ensure that the confidentiality obligation also extends to their employees and subcontractors and follow stock exchange rules if they become aware of price-sensitive inside information. Partners are also required to protect personal data in accordance with legislation and Liviko's guidelines.

Supporting Free Competition

Liviko regards the promotion of free and fair competition as a prerequisite for operating in a fair market and maintaining a trustworthy business environment.

Employees and Partners always support free and fair competition in all their activities, excluding any conduct that would impede, restrict, or harm fair competition in business operations.

Employees and Partners act in accordance with competition rules and do not enter into illegal agreements or coordinate actions with others in any way that would damage fair competition.

When interacting with competitors, Employees and Partners refrain from discussing confidential information and do not use unauthorized means or tactics to obtain business secrets or other confidential information of competitors.

Social Responsibility and Respect for Human Rights

Liviko considers respect for human rights and social responsibility as an inherent part of its business operations and expects the same from all its Partners. Liviko's goal is to ensure a fair, safe, professional work and business environment, where the principles of human dignity and equal treatment are upheld.

Liviko and its Partners comply with internationally recognized human rights, including the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Labour Organization (ILO) core conventions, and in particular:

Discrimination on any grounds is prohibited. All employees must be provided with a tolerant, inclusive, safe, and secure working environment, fair working conditions, and equal treatment.

The use of child labor, forced labor, or slave labor is forbidden. Employing minors is allowed only in accordance with local laws and on the condition that it does not harm but rather supports the development, education, and well-being of young people.

Liviko and its Partners contribute to the development of employees, value work-life balance, and create conditions for a work environment that supports both mental and physical well-being.

Partner ensures that its operations and value chain adhere to the same principles and applies them to its own suppliers and subcontractors. Liviko and its Partners ensure the existence of effective and confidential channels through which employees, Partners, and other affected third parties can safely report possible violations.

Environmental Awareness and Climate Commitments

Liviko considers environmental protection and climate change mitigation to be an integral part of its responsible business activities. To achieve this, roles and responsibilities are divided as follows:

Liviko aligns its activities with the goals of the Paris Climate Agreement and implements science-based measures to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Liviko develops and implements action plans to minimize direct environmental impacts and monitors compliance with applicable environmental and climate regulations, based on the Liviko's Environmental Policy¹.

Employees act in an environmentally conscious manner in their daily activities, avoiding actions that may harm the environment. Employees are required to follow the company's internal environmental rules, use resources (including energy and water) efficiently, and contribute to waste reduction and material recycling in line with the principles of the circular economy.

Partners ensure that their operations follow the same principles. Partners take measures to avoid causing undue harm to the environment and cooperate to achieve the environmental objectives set by Liviko.

Food safety

Liviko, employees and partners value and follow the basics of safe food production and keep themselves updated with the current relevant legislation.

Liviko, employees and partners adhere to the food hygiene and cleanliness regulations established by the company while in the production facility.

Reporting Violations of Code of Conduct

To ensure an open, ethical, and inclusive business culture, Liviko encourages everyone to act immediately upon noticing anyone violating the principles or behavioral norms outlined in the Code of Conduct document. Within Liviko, the primary support for such matters is provided by the employee's direct manager or HR personnel, but an anonymous whistleblowing line is also available.

The Liviko tip line is open to anyone who wishes to report violations occurring within Liviko, including breaches of the principles of Code of Conduct that may be committed by either Employees or Partners and their employees.

Reports are received and cases are handled by the Internal Audit Department of TKM Grupp AS, a subsidiary of NG Investeeringud OÜ (hereinafter the "Internal Audit Department"), in accordance with the applicable internal regulations, ensuring transparency in the investigation of cases and the confidentiality of the reporting person.

Where a report concerns a potential breach occurring within a Partner's organisation, the information received shall be forwarded to the Partner, and the Internal Audit Department shall monitor that the Partner handles the report appropriately and implements the necessary corrective measures. The Internal Audit Department does not conduct internal investigations within the Partner's organisation but reserves the right to assess the adequacy of the Partner's response.

E-mail: vihje@nginvest.ee

Phone: +372 667 3152

Languages: Estonian, English, Russian

Enforcement of Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct is a Liviko core document, published on the Liviko website <https://liviko.eu> and uniformly applicable to all Employees and Partners.

Compliance with Code of Conduct is a prerequisite for cooperation, and adherence to its requirements is confirmed in all contractual relationships, either by reference to this document or as a separate contract annex. The content of Code of Conduct is not individually negotiable.

Employees are required to familiarize themselves with the principles of Code of Conduct and to follow them in their daily activities. Employees are responsible for acting in accordance with these principles and for collaborating on behalf of the Liviko only with partners who recognize these principles.

Partner ensures that their operations comply with the principles set out in the Code of Conduct and makes sure that their employees are informed about the rights and obligations associated with these principles. Liviko has the right to request additional information or documents from the Partner, either before or after starting cooperation, in order to verify compliance with the stated principles.

Any breach of these Code of Conduct principles, whether committed by an Employee or a Partner, is considered a violation of the contract concluded with Liviko. Upon identifying a violation, Liviko may request the Employee or Partner to make corrections or clarifications in their activities. Liviko addresses violations transparently and proportionately, taking into account the severity of the violation as well as the willingness of the Employee or Partner to cooperate in resolving the situation. The aim is to ensure consistent and reliable adherence to Code of Conduct.

In the case of a major violation, Liviko has the right to review the terms of the contractual relationship, which may result, for example, in order reductions, reassignment of duties, or, in extreme cases, termination of contractual relations.

¹The Group's Environmental Policy is available on the website of NG Investeeringud OÜ and its subsidiaries.